Elements of Risk

All experiential learning programs, such as cooperative education, job shadowing and Kids to Work participation, involve certain elements of risk. During the Program, your child will take a tour of the University Services Building (USB) (including, the Building Operations departments and UBS trade shops as guided by the trade managers), UBC Bookstore, UBC museums and participate on the UBC Ropes Course operated by third party, which will require you to fill and sign a separate participation and waiver form. For additional risks related specifically to the UBC Ropes Course please review to the following link: <http://www.ubcropescourse.ca> . Your child will not be working directly with any industrial machinery or equipment; however, injuries may occur while participating in this Program without any fault of the student, the school board, or UBC. By allowing your child to take part in this Program, you are accepting the risk that your child may be injured and agreeing that UBC is not responsible for any loss, injury, or damage, including property loss or damage which your child may suffer as a result of his/her participation in the Program.

For more information on recommendations for workplace health and safety for the Program please review the applicable information found at www.thelearningpartnership.ca.

- I have reviewed the Elements of Risk section above with my child and I understand and agree to accept the risks associated with my child participating in the Program.
